CHAMPIONS OF THE STATE

Record of a Gallant Up-Hill Struggle.

Something About the Football Players Who Brought the Pennant to Salt Lake.

The above is a photo of the Salt Lake City high school football team, which carried off the State high school championship during the past season. The team started out with the poorest prospects in the history of the school, and their subsequent triumph more than surprised their most sanguine supporters. Last year's graduation class took even of the best players from the school, and as there was no second team of any repute from which to draw, it was a most perplexing question as to what would be the outcome.

FATES AGAINST THEM

The first blow came soon after the opening of school, when Captain-elect Paul Nelden was compelled to resign because of heavy school work. Ray Weller was then elected to the position, but parental objection compelled him to resign. Hansen was the next, and the fates, not yet content, pulled him down with a severe attack of typhoid fever. The players worried at spending all their time in being captains, and decided to let Weller officiate in that position until Hansen should return.

WERE BOUND TO WIN

The players were determined to win out, and although Coach Callahan could not give them his attention, they worked hard, and coached by several members of the "Old Guard," they worked themselves into pretty fair shape. Under these unfavorable conditions they went to Logan for the first game of the season, and were defeated by a score of 15 to 6. The following week they met the team from Ogden, which was the next one on their schedule. Up to this time, and even then, it was conceded that Ogden would win the game. The only question discussed was by what score Weller would win. The excitement and interest increased as the time for the game approached. Mr. Callahan found it possible to spare a few moments, and went down and drilled the team into shape, and on the morning of the day when the game was to be played the question as to the outcome was a debatable one with the locals. After the first ten minutes of the game, it was plain to see that Ogden could not break the locals' line, and that their only chance of scoring was by a fumble. Now it was high school ball and everyone waited breathlessly for the result of the first play. Ogden's line was found to be respectable, and the locals bucked their line and skirted their ends almost at will. The final score was 16 to 6 in their favor, but should have been 16 to 0, for the Ogden team was a disgraceful one. The two teams met again on Thanksgiving day and played a game, with a final score of 6 to 6. Ogden scored her touchdown on a simple fumble, and acknowledged the locals' superiority by refusing to play off the tie.

END OF THE YEAR'S WORK

With this game ended the team's schedule, but their remarkable record will ever be the pride of the high school. Their success was due to the machinery-like team work taught them by Coach Callahan. The team is not a lucky one, but each member knows his place and plays it. The players were always quick in forming plays, and generally had the necessary ginger and push to keep them going.

WHERE THE BOYS PLAY

Pierce, W. H. Young, Judson, are all good ends, and seem to be natural followers of interference, and can be depended upon for downing anybody that comes around their line. Pierce is perhaps the best because of his longer experience, but both the others have every requisite for downing any rattling good players. Paul Nelden and Benny Harris at tackles are the equals of any in the State. Nelden is the cooler player, while Harris is remarkable as an aggressor and never-letting-up player. These two men were the hole drivers, and are responsible for many of the team's victories. Hennessey and Gundry are strong guards and served as good support for the center. Their defensive line is the best in the order, and they were seldom sidetracked save by the giant Aggies.

SOME COMING STARS

Center Richmond is an athlete in every sense of the word, and will captain the team next year. He handles the ball well and always keeps his opponent busy. He has a reputation for breaking through the line and stopping plays before they get in action.

Richardson, Blintz and Weller, as backs, make an admirable trio. They always worked quickly and worked together in the offensive, while their backing up of the line on the defensive was especially creditable. Blintz has the line like a pile-driver, which Richardson is quick to adapt himself to every condition and position. Blintz will be remembered for his awful line plunges and his running, though good at line bucking, more for his long runs, resulting from his ability to closely follow interference and not making a single fumble.

STRONG BACK OF THE LINE

Hansen and Groesbeck have admirable records as quarterbacks. They rarely if ever fumbled, and generally showed the best of head work in running the game. Hansen has the advantage of long experience, and has developed into one of the best and surest quarterbacks in the State. He backs up his line well, he did not fumble the ball once all season, and is always as cool in a game as under ordinary conditions. Groesbeck is new to the position and more than surprised his teammates by playing the first Ogden game with only one week's practice and not making a single fumble.

PROSPECTS FOR NEXT YEAR

The prospects for next year are better than ever. Only four old men, Nelden, Blintz, Richardson and Harris, will go out with this year's graduating class, and material is already being developed to fill their places. Richardson as captain is a good man and is bound to make the team a success. Will Fowler, as manager of the team, has the best record ever made by any person who has held the position.

LAURELS FOR CORBETT

Little Fighter Aims at the Championship.

BRIGHT PRIZE-RING BOSS

What Is Thought of Jimmy Britt's Chances.

Estimates Concerning Some of the Men Corbett Must Whip Before His Title Is Clear.

The following interesting ring gossip is from the pen of Malachy Hogan, the sport critic of the Chicago Times-Herald:

That Young Corbett is trying to make a real champion of himself is apparent, judging from the alacrity with which he and Jimmy Britt came to terms the other night. It is probable that Young Corbett figures that the champion who fights more and talks less is the more popular, and besides he probably thinks it is best to make hay while the sun shines.

In Britt Corbett will run up against another "native son," and there is no denying the fact that a "native son" is a "good thing" for the box office, especially if the fight fans think he stands a show against the other fighter.

Presumably the coming fight, which will probably take place in February, will be for the feather-weight championship, that most abused title of all. Corbett hung out for 125 pounds at 6 o'clock when the match was first talked of. Britt, who in reality is a pure lightweight, insisted on 130 pounds at the same hour. From what I have learned, probably figuring that Britt would have hard work in getting down to 130. When Britt and Jack O'Keefe fought their twenty-round draw at Butte both were over the light-weight limit, or 133 pounds. From what I have learned, Britt has not lost any weight since his last fight, and he may find considerable trouble meeting the stipulations.

Britt, when first in the limelight, was hailed as a wonder by the coast critics. All sorts of things were predicted for him. He started in as an amateur boxer and then began his professional career by winning from a couple of second-rate fighters. Nearly two years ago he met "Kid" Lavigne in San Francisco and knocked him out in eight rounds. Then he met Frank Erne and put the latter to the bad in seven rounds. His fortune was made and he became one of the most idolized fighters on the coast.

When he went outside of his home town he ran up against a foul. This happened in Portland, Or., where he lost to Jack O'Keefe. Later the two met in Butte and the bout of twenty rounds was called a draw. Up to this time he had been called a whirlwind as a fighter, but a number of Chicago men saw the fight in Butte and became rather skeptical as to his ability in this line. He had previously fought Willie Fitzgerald at San Francisco. The bout went twenty rounds and Britt was given the decision.

A third fight with O'Keefe was scheduled, but the latter was ten pounds over weight when it came to weighing in and the fight was called off. Later in the year Britt secured decisions over Charley Sieger and Martin Canole, both bouts going the limit.

From the fights mentioned it is apparent that Britt is not a slacker. It is true he knocked out Lavigne and Erne, but neither of these could be counted in the first rank at the time. In later fights Britt showed that he could take a lot of punishment, and he has always been a clever boxer. It remains to be seen what he will do when he gets up against the hard hitting champion. In him Britt will find a fighter who far surpasses any or all of those whom Britt gained the decision over at the weights. The punch will be there, also the brain work and generalship.

"THERE'S MONEY IN IT."

Sensational Disclosures in the Municipal Bribery Case at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 18.—In the bribery trial of ex-Alderman Ellen to-day, ex-Alderman Clark Shocum swore that he was a member of a special Council committee on the water matter and that in a conversation with K. Salsbury told him there was money in it. He supported it. Salsbury finally gave him $500, which was delivered to him by Salsbury in the latter's private office.

Ex-Alderman John McLachlan testified that Salsbury told him there was $2000 in the water deal for him, and that Salsbury gave him $200. Corey P. Bissel, ex-member of the Board of Public Works, said that Salsbury came to him financially and that there was a deal on to get a water supply. Bissel swore "Salsbury asked if I would not talk to some of my friends in the Council and I promised to do so. He mentioned Aldermen Donovan and Kinney and authorized me to offer $1000 each."

Discoverer of This Magic Compound That Grows Hair in a Single Night.

After half a century spent in the laboratory, crowned with high honors for his many world-famous discoveries, the celebrated physician chemist at the head of the great Altenehm Medical Dispensary has just made the startling announcement that he has discovered a compound that grows hair on any bald head. The doctor makes the claim that after experiments, taking years to complete, he has at last reached the goal of his ambition. To the doctor all heads are alike. There are none which cannot be cured by this remarkable remedy. The record of the cures already made is truly marvelous, and were it not for the high standing of the great physician and the convincing testimony of thousands of citizens all over the country, it would seem too miraculous to be true. There can be no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claims, nor can

THE OLDEST RELIABLE SPECIALIST IN THE CITY.

Salt Lake Microscopic Medical Institute

DR. C. W. HIGGINS, M. D., Mgr. and Prop.

ST. ELMO HOTEL, Cor. Main & Third South Sts. Thirty Years in Salt

After 45 years' study of Nature and her laws along special lines my superior advantages and ability go without saying, and I unhesitatingly declare, and my unparalleled record as a successful specialist in private diseases of men up my claim, that more men have been cured by me of VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVO-SEXUAL DEBILITY, BLOOD POISON and REFLEX DISORDERS, within the last 35 years, than by any twenty specialists in the States combined. This fact is self-evident and indisputable, and, with my rates more reasonable, and treatment successful, you do wrong to experiment with concerns whose methods are being frequently changed, and whose are the scrapings together of transient and defunct concerns.

Courtesy demands that we mention no names in a newspaper, but if you come to my office I can furnish some information with the proofs so conclusive that you will not regard them as selfish arguments.

NERVO-SEXUAL DEBILITY CURED.

Nervo-Sexual debility is a term which I use to designate a decline of power in the general system and also certain special functions and powers. No matter what the cause, it is always necessary, in such cases, to correct so as to supply the true elements of lost force.

This is the keynote of success in the treatment of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Premature Decline, Power and other weaknesses, all included under the sweeping term, "Nervo-Sexual Debility."

The cure of these infirmities implies the restoration of tone in every organ of the body and the renewal of the impulse or force which governs and controls all organs. I solved this problem a few years ago by study along of chemistry of the human body, and my discovery was that of means by which I can revitalize the powers of nature to remove waste tissue and supply new; with the elements which are added to the system go new establish and maintain the natural powers of the body. Thus I cure Nervo-Sexual Debility to stay cured.

VARICOCELE AND ITS REMEDY.

Scrotal Varicocele has been described as a creeping disease. It silently steals upon its victim like a thief, and before he is really aware of its presence great and damaging inroads are made upon his constitution. The surrounding spermatic cord becomes enlarged and engorged with impure blood and diseased tissue. At the condition may be accompanied with a dull, heavy, dragging pain in the small of the back, extending down into the low spirits, weakness of body and brain, nervous debility, partial or complete loss of the sexual power and the frequently decline of the general health. All these disagreeable symptoms soon disappear completely and forever by Varicocele cure, which is safe, painless and bloodless. Every clot of stagnant blood and every fiber of diseased tissue are driven from the affected parts, normal circulation is re-established throughout the pelvic region, the weak gains become strong again and sturdy manhood is restored.

REFLEX AND ASSOCIATE DISEASES

Are those which are present and act to aggravate and favor the process of the main malady. I never dilate until cured in every particular. If the case is complicated with Hydrocele (dropsy of the scrotum), Hemorrhoids, Piles, Fistula, or any form of disease I cure such additional complaint also, so that the cure may be perfect and permanent.

Reflex effects of all pelvic complaints are destructive to the tone of the Sympathetic Nerves. The debility affects on the general health and strength are demonstrated by such manifold sapping agents as Varicocele, Blood Poison and Discharge-producing Virus. I cure both causes and effects and restore men so victimized by the toll of inheritance of Blood Taint.
